Direction (for questions 32-34): Read the given passage and answer the question:

Vikram Sarabhai is the father of our space program. He was a highly talented scientist who not only developed and launched rockets but was passionately committed to use all aspects of science and technology, in general, and space applications, in particular. He was a dreamer, creator, an innovator, not only in science and technology, or in its organization and management but also in a huge range of developmental institutions ranging from the Space Science and Technology Centre,

Thiruvananthapuram, to the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, and the Nehru Foundation for Development. Vikram Sarabhai has often been typified as a dove on nuclear weapons and missiles. He advocated a more decisive role for scientists in the promotion and application of science and technology to contribute to the attainment of socio-economic goals set by planners. Indeed, he called for and worked for scientists and technologists to be heavily involved in the policy and management aspects of science and technology-intensive areas of national endeavour, other than science and technology in a narrow sense.

32. Vikram Sarabhai can be described as a:

- a. Average talented scientist
- b. Highly talented scientist
- c. Normal talented scientist
- d. Graded talented scientist

33. The tag which does not define Sarabhai is:

- a. Motivator
- b. Creator
- c. Innovator
- d. Dreamer

34. In the field of nuclear weapons, Vikram Sarabhai symbolized as:

- a. Committed
- b. Highly capable
- c. Dove
- d. Contributor

35. Fill in the blank using the most suitable option:
